

Meet Patrice Verdun!

Patrice is a Community Health Worker (CHW) at Eisenhower Elementary.

- She is involved in the following projects:
 - Currently, she is not involved in any projects as she is new to Eisenhower Elementary. She is excited about meeting and working with the staff and families at the school.
 - She plans to provide a variety of resources, health, and nutrition information, and participate in community events at the school and offsite.
 - She plans to work on identifying ways to decrease and prevent student tardiness and absences while identifying the barriers that contribute to it.
- Her favorite part about being a CHW is building relationships and trust with families so that she can successfully serve their needs related to healthcare, education and community resources.
- Her goal for the upcoming school year is to have mini health fairs during parent-teacher conferences.
- A fun fact about Patrice is that she loves bike riding.

“My joy truly comes from helping people get their physical health, mental health and social service basic needs met to improve their quality of living.” -Patrice Verdun, Community Health Worker
